May Be the Only Way to Establish Morocco's New Ruler.

France Sends Four of Her Warships to Tangier—More to Follow.

England's Fears Excited—Muley Hassan's Body Sent to Rabat.

(By Associated Press.)

TOULON, France, June 12.—Four warships under the command of Admiral Le Bon have started for Tangier. The French fleet, Admiral Duperré and Alger, under Admiral Gaudin, have also been ordered to be ready to sail for Morocco at the shortest notice.

LONDON, June 12.—The ordering of a French fleet to Morocco, and of the preparations being made to reinforce it if necessary, is attracting considerable attention here. The news from Morocco is far from being reassuring and civil war is anticipated. Conflicting reports are still in circulation in regard to the death of the late Sultan of Morocco, and the general opinion is that he may be Sultan Abdul Aziz will have to defend his throne with the sword.

The Pall Mall Gazette, referring to the jealousy of the powers in regard to Morocco, says that the danger to European peace is due to the fact that M. Dupuy is in power, and that he may take this opportunity of striking a blow at English prestige. A policy of aggression which would certainly be satisfied with a dual control of Morocco, excluding England from having any voice in the affairs of that country.

The Globe and the St. James's Gazette expect that a civil war will be the only way of settling the succession to the throne of Morocco. The Globe counsels the immediate strengthening of the British fleet off the coast of that country.

TANGIER, June 12.—The remains of the late Sultan Muley Hassan have been sent, under military escort, to Rabat for burial.

The succession of the late Sultan's youngest son, Abdul Aziz, has been accepted at Casablanca, but a hostile feeling prevails at Fez, where Muley Ismail, a brother of the deceased Sultan, has been acting as the Sultan's representative.

Muley Ismail is a popular favorite and trouble is feared. The Spanish cruiser Conde Venadito has arrived here.

EARTHQUAKES IN SPAIN.

Buildings Collapse and Kill Several People at Nacimiento.

(By Associated Press.)

MADRID, June 12.—There were earthquake shocks yesterday in the provinces of Granada and Almería. The disturbance was more severely felt in the latter province. At Nacimiento, twenty-four miles from Almería, several houses collapsed and several people were killed and a number wounded by falling walls.

A church and some school buildings are a heap of ruins.

FIVE FAMILIES OUSTED.

Did Nothing but Fight, Which Tired the Owner.

Bloody Battles Over Young Fred's Attentions to Clara.

Five families out of eight in a rear tenement-house at 514 East Thirtieth street are being dispossessed this morning for fighting.

At 11 o'clock last night they had a general wind-up fight. As a result Frederick Hyler, fifteen years old, is in Bellevue Hospital with a deep gash in his throat, while Gottlieb Seib, a cigar-maker, is locked up, charged with being responsible for the boy's condition.

There were two factions in the house—the Hylers and the Ulrichs. Mrs. Hyler lives on the ground floor, with her son, Frederick, her husband and two daughters. Mrs. Ulrich occupied the fifth floor with her husband and daughter, Clara. All the trouble arose because Fred Hyler wanted to "keep company" with Clara Ulrich. Clara didn't object at all; in fact, she was strongly in favor of such an arrangement. But her mother and her wouldn't listen to it for a minute. The various families in the house took sides, and the result has been a series of battles, marked with blows and blood.

Things have been going on in this way for a year. At least Charles Hassel, the owner of the house, couldn't stand it any longer, and he put in the order that five of the families, including the Hylers and the Ulrichs, must go.

Last night Gottlieb Seib went into the front courtyard and called upstairs to Fred Hyler and told him to get out and leave it out. Young Hyler didn't hesitate a minute. He was so anxious to accept the challenge that he jumped out of the window. The fight was short. Hyler no sooner landed in the yard than Seib was by his side with a short knife in his hand. He struck once, and Hyler ran into the house with the blood streaming from his neck.

AN ACTOR IN TROUBLE.

He Drank Too Heavily with the O'Brien.

Thomas McNom, who said he was an actor, of 28 East Twenty-third street, was fined $5 in the Yorkville Police court this morning for trying to escape paying cab fare.

McNom was at the John J. O'Brien banquet, at the Hotel Brunswick, last night. He drank too much champagne. After the banquet he engaged "Caddy" Robert A. McPherson to take him home. At Eighth avenue and Twenty-sixth street McNom opened the door of the cab and attempted to run away. In so doing he fell and injured himself. McPherson caught him and had him arrested.

Round About Town.

William Graham, of 645 Tenth avenue, discovered the body of a male child floating in the river at the foot of Duane street at 3:30 o'clock this morning. The infant was a mile, and looked as if it had been stillborn. The body was removed to the morgue.

John Rush, twenty years old, was held in the Yorkville Police court for stealing a milk dealer at 117 West Houston street. Rush was left in charge of the store yesterday and robbed the till. He was found drunk on Tenth avenue last night with a knife in his pocket.

HER DECREE STANDS.

Judge Bischoff Refuses to Reopen the Atherton Divorce Case.

Would Not Even Examine the Affidavits Presented.

The Alleged Forged Confession to Be Taken Before the Grand Jury.

Judge Bischoff, of the Court of Common Pleas, to-day denied the motion to open the decree of divorce granted to Mrs. Nancy B. Atherton, Thursday. The Judge did not examine the affidavits attached to the motion papers, and announced his decision immediately at the close of the arguments of Lawyer Herman Frank, counsel for George F. Atherton.

Judge Bischoff interrupted Lawyer Frank during his argument by saying: "You have more faith in the truthfulness of your client than I have, and I do not hesitate to say I do not believe him."

Mr. Atherton is the proprietor of the Hotel Aberdeen, at Twenty-first street and Broadway. Mrs. Atherton is the daughter of Dr. S. M. Horsey, a prominent physician of Bridgeport, Conn.

She charged her husband with having been intimate with Mrs. Cecilia Carr, a boarder at the Hotel Aberdeen. A nursemaid in the employ of the Athertons swore to having found Atherton in Mrs. Carr's apartment. The nursemaid was also put in evidence in the divorce suit what purported to be a written confession by Atherton of his improper conduct with Mrs. Carr.

In his motion to-day Mr. Atherton submitted an affidavit, in which he says he did not defend the suit because he wished to protect Mrs. Carr, who, he says, is innocent. He says Mrs. Atherton's counsel agreed to keep the suit from publicity, but that it was exploited at great length in the newspapers.

He says further that he was just about to bring an action for divorce against his wife, having at co-respondent William Semple, a wealthy retired merchant, who formerly lived at the Hotel Aberdeen, but who now lives at the Victoria Hotel.

He says the written confession placed in evidence is a forgery, and that he never wrote it, because his relations with Mrs. Carr were not improper.

In opposition to the motion, Mrs. Atherton's counsel offered affidavits from Dr. E. H. Holcomb, of Baltimore, and of her aunt and father to the effect that she was undergoing medical treatment for injuries received in a railroad accident at the time her husband accuses her of intimacy with Mr. Semple.

After Judge Bischoff had denied the motion, Lawyer Frank said he would take the matter of the alleged forged confession before the Grand Jury and see if he could not get some one indicted for forgery.

Mrs. Carr was represented in court by a lawyer, but Judge Bischoff refused to hear him.

Y., where he was taken for trial. A recommendation of mercy accompanied the verdict, and $10,000 was set off with a fine of $1,000 and costs. Hanks is seventy years old.

DEATH IN BAD MEAT.

Two Children Die of Supposed Potomac Poisoning.

They Ate Kidney Stew and Soon After Grew Ill.

The Health Board Is Now Investigating the Matter.

Chief Chemist Martin and Dr. Allen, of the Health Department, are making an investigation to-day into the death of the two Broecker children, said to have died from potomac poisoning at their home, 645 East One Hundred and Fifty-first street, last week. Both children were buried yesterday.

Rafaela Broecker died at 6:45 P. M. Thursday. He was six years old, and had been sick several days.

The other child, George, was four years and eight months old. He died at 10:30 Saturday.

The certificate of death gives the cause as acute dysentery, caused by potomac poisoning from eating kidney stew.

The father of the children is Herman E. Broecker, an engineer. The details of the sickness and death of the children will be thoroughly sifted by the health officers, who declare that if the cause of death is really potomac poisoning, the meat eaten by the children must have been in an advanced state of putrefaction when cooked.

Somebody is therefore guilty of gross neglect or dense ignorance, if of nothing more serious.

Coroner Shea made out the death certificate without comment. The Board of Health warning it of the matter.

The case is now being investigated by health officials, and the medical fraternity, and it is not at all improbable that the bodies of the children may be exhumed, unless it be found that an autopsy was made.

LUDWIG BROS. BRANCHING OUT

Opening of Their New Store Made Necessary by Increased Business.

The constantly increasing patronage built up by Ludwig Bros. has necessitated from time to time additions to their establishment. With their five big buildings, Nos. 31 to 42 West Fourteenth street, crowded with attractive merchandise at tempting prices, it was thought that further additions were unnecessary, but their trade has not been static. The increase in this case was so rapid that another building, No. 44, had to be added.

The new building was opened yesterday with some very tempting special sales in trunks, hand-bags, millinery and fancy goods, and it was found none too large to accommodate the throngs of buyers. The house of the new building is given up entirely to the leather goods, trunks, etc., of which an unusually large assortment is offered for the people about to start on Summer outings and voyages. The main floor is given up to the large stock of straw goods, feathers, ribbons and flowers, and many dainty creations in Spring bonnets are displayed there.

During the week there will be special sales of such Summer necessities and luxuries as straw hats for men, women and children, duck vests, dress goods, silk waists, morning and hammocks, and particularly large assortment of furniture, curtains, bedding and carpets.

Anthracite Men Resume Work.

"TOO MUCH GAG LAW HERE."

Alderman Prague Finally Gets a Chance to Talk.

A Breeze Over Street-Car Franchise Asked For.

The Aldermen to-day fixed Sept. 8 for a public hearing on the application of the Metropolitan Traction Company for permission to extend the tracks of the Columbus and Ninth avenue cable road through One Hundred and Ninth street to Manhattan avenue, thence north through Manhattan avenue to One Hundred and Sixteenth street, to connect at Lenox avenue with the new line to be built to that point.

Alderman Noonan, who introduced the application, was in the chair. Alderman Prague tried to speak several times and was each time promptly called to order. He finally got the word and said with much spirit:

"The last franchise this Board gave away was given before any of the members had a chance to speak. There is too much gag law here. I want a chance to speak, and I object to being called to order every time I get on my feet."

The chair did not reply to Alderman Prague and the matter was dropped.

Alderman Rinn offered an application from the same company for a franchise to build a double track from the north end of the Columbus avenue road through to St. Nicholas avenue, to the Kingsbridge road, to Riverdale avenue, to the Kingsbridge station of the New York and Westchester railroad, to Amsterdam avenue, and to connect there with the existing road, was also contemplated in the application, which was signed by President H. H. Vreeland.

The application emphasizes the fact that the Metropolitan Traction Company had contracted with an electric cable power for the construction of an underground trolley system upon its roads.

It is evident from the wording of the application, that the Company contemplates the substitution of electricity for cable power in the near future.

June 13 was decided upon as the date of the hearing on this last application. The new lines will, if built, cover about eight and three-tenths miles.

DASHED OUT OF COURT

Cleary Went In as a Spectator and Came Back a Prisoner.

Policeman Callahan Wanted the "Rat Gang" Leader for Robbery.

Recognized Him and Captured Him After a Hot Chase.

John Cleary, of 426 West Twenty-sixth street, made a dash to get away from a policeman in Jefferson Market Police Court to-day, and was captured only after a hot chase. He was not under arrest when he walked into the court, but he was "wanted." He is one of the leaders of the "Rat Gang," which holds up night pedestrians and drivers of wagons.

John Casey, of the same gang, had been arrested by Policeman Collins, of the West Twentieth street station, for being drunk and abusive on the street. Casey is another power in the gang, and a number of his pals went to court to hear his sentence.

Policeman Callahan, of the West Twentieth street station, who was looking for Cleary, was in court in citizen's dress. Cleary stole a lot of clothes and miscellaneous articles a month ago from a woman, who lives at 410 West Twenty-sixth street. He is also wanted for stealing goods from passing wagons.

Callahan edged over towards Cleary, who waited until the policeman was within ten feet of him, when he darted past several policemen and ran out the front door.

The entire "Rat Gang" rose in a body and ran after him. When Callahan reached the street Cleary was running east on Tenth street, and forty odd members of the gang were between them.

Policeman Collins was with Callahan, and together they ran east on Tenth street after Cleary. Two policemen from the Charles street station joined in the chase.

Cleary ran as far as Fifth avenue before he was caught. Callahan drew his revolver and twice threatened to shoot, but this didn't dismay Cleary, who kept on going.

Finally Callahan got near enough to Cleary to trip him up. Then he took him back to court.

Cleary and Casey were each held for trial.

Club Members' Costly Quarrel.

Five members of the Emerald Athletic club who were found quarrelling in front of the club-room at 178 Fourth street were fined $1 each by Justice Koch in the Essex Market Police Court to-day. They were August Hornbacher, William Smith, Denis Shea, Richard Hayes and Christian Brosnan.

Judge Phelps No Better.

ENGLISHPOND, N. J., June 12.—There has been no marked change in the condition of William Water Police since last night. Dr. Currie was with Mr. Phelps until nearly midnight. At that time the patient was resting easily, notwithstanding the intense heat. Dr. Currie visited Judge Phelps this forenoon and found him much the same as when he left him last night.

Capt. Warts Is No Better.

The condition of Capt. Alexander B. Warts, of the Elizabeth street police station, who is ill at his residence, 60 Lexington avenue, is not improved, and is very serious.
